

Browne, 1621.

A New Almanacke and Prognostication for the yeare of our Lord God, 1621.

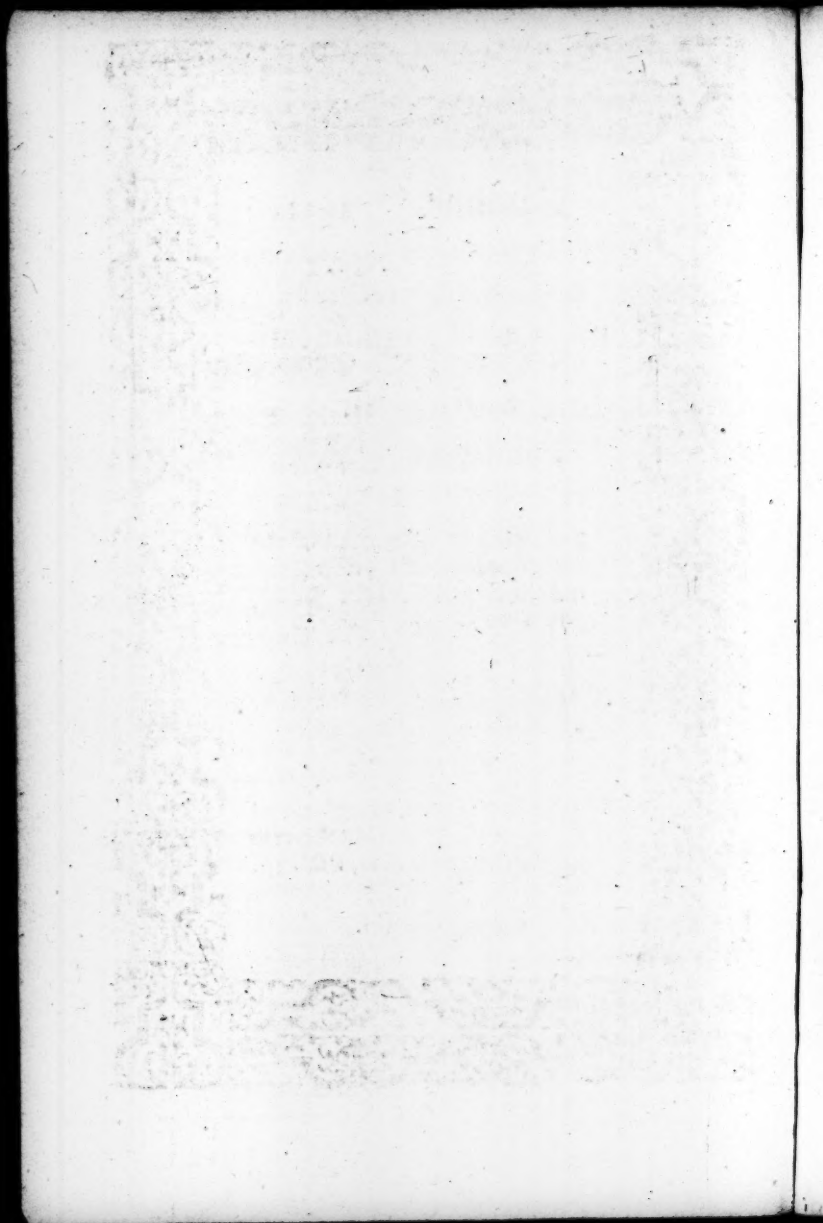

Being the first after Leape-yeare.

Composed and referred to the paralell and Meridian of the famous City of London, and may well serue all the South parts of Great-Britaine.

By Daniel Browne, well willer to the Mathematickes, and sometime a Scholler of the famous City of London,

The heauens declare the glorie of God, and the firmament sheweth the work of his hands, Psal. 19.

Cum privilegio.

A breefe instruction for the better vnder-standing of the Termes, and their Returnes.

You must first vnderstand, that euery yeare doth consist of foure Termes: and the Termes of seuerall Returnes. For, Hilary and Trinitie, hath each of them four. Easter Terme five, and Michaelmas eight: and euery returne of foure daies, & euery day serving to a seuerall purpose. The first day whereof is the day of Essoynes, for the defendand in a personall action, for the Tenant in a reall action. The second is the day of Exception, for the plaintiffe or demandent to lay an exception, if no essoin be cast. that the defendand shall not be essoined. The third is Returna breuium, that is, the day of the returne of the writt, for the Sheriffe to returne the same. And the fourth is the day of appearance of parties and Iuries in the Court of common pleas. By me drawn out into forme, for the generall good of his Majesties subjects, and set forth in my yearly Almanackes. The vse whereof, as for example: In Hilary Terme, a writt in the Court of common Pleas (where al suits commence by originall, &c.) is returnable in Octabis Hilary, then search in the Kalender for Octabis Hilary in January the xx. day, which is the Essoyne day: the other daies follow in order, but if any of those daies fall upon a holiday, that is no Court day.

A Table of the foure Termes, and their Returnes, for this yeare, 1621.

Also I think it good to shew vnto you, that the latitude of places doth alter the length of the day, and the longitude doth alter the times of the eclipses either of the Sun or moone, with all the other aspects that the Moon hath with the sun or any other of the Planets, &c. Example, at Dublyn the Moone changeth rather the at London by 29 min. and the longest Summer day is 17 hours 15 minutes long, at London the longest day is 16 houres 24 minuts: the difference is 51 minuts.

July hath xxxi. daies.

Goodnight blood-letting, that many phantasies & griefes cures. In lieu of medicines let cooling victuals & bathes vsde with discretion suffice. Play and sleepe moderately. Dog & Lyon reigne like Vulcan, hot as a Furnace.

Browne. 1621.

A PROGNOSTICATION
on for this present yeere of our Lord God, being the first after the Leape yeere. 1621.

Wherein is generally inserted the state of the foure Quarters of the yeere, with diuers notes of Physick, and Husbandry, fit for sundry occasions,
and sorts of men, which the ingenious
may vie to their pleasure and profit.

By DANIEL BROVNE, wel-willer to the Mathematickes.

*When I behold thine heauens, euen the works of thy fingers, the Sunne, Moone, and the Stars,
which thou hast ordained.*

PROLOGUE

For this is the first time
that God, by the help of the Law, has been able to show us the way to

the Kingdom of Heaven.
The Law is the first step
to the Kingdom of Heaven.
The Law is the first step
to the Kingdom of Heaven.
The Law is the first step
to the Kingdom of Heaven.

The Law is the first step
to the Kingdom of Heaven.
The Law is the first step
to the Kingdom of Heaven.
The Law is the first step
to the Kingdom of Heaven.

To the Reader.

Ind Reader, warranted by thy wonted fauours, I continue to deliuer to my Countrey the fruites of time, begotten in the houres of leasure: if they seeme gracious in thy eyes, I am content, I sent them to be nursed with your good conceits, but the world is full of Aspicks tongues, and many curious eyes are a fishing; the best therefore are in danger to be stung with poysonous censures, and to all, a generality of capps is to be expected, free from which I neither wish nor hope to bee, for so to doe, were to desire to bee out of the sight of most, because in these dayes
it is the fashion of many, not to read and vnderstand, but to reade and finde faulfe, though they doe not vn-derstand: of such I neither can, nor will entreat a kinde censure, neither of such
that are addicted to the Romā superstition, which hauing entertained English fugitiues or Iesuits, that doe instruct them in poynts of sedition, forbidding
B 2 them

To the Reader.

them the reading of any Lutherans or heretike bookes, as they call vs: yet if any such there be, that doth bry my Almanacke, because they bee dispersed through the Kingdome, for their dayly vse, because in the Blankes they may write, as in a Iournal, euery dayes action, and there finding already written a remembrance that shal make them blanke, seeing therein the iust Iudgement of God in defending our King, & in overthrowing of those Romanists and traitors, that would haue wrought the ouerthrow of King and Countrey, I wish them to read till they vnderstand, and when they, and the other fault-finders doe vnderstand, to finde fault, and not before; lest iudging too rash, they reprehend without cause, whereby the griued, vpon iust occasion, returns the scandalous indignity that they would haue giuen others, with an open disgrace to themselves.

Farewell.

D. BROVNE.

A brieft and generall description
of the foure Quarters of this yeere, 1621.

Hereafter the Spring, the Summer, and Haruest, and Winter, shall not cease so long as the earth remaineth, Genl. 8. 22.

The Winter, the Sunne in ♄. ♀. and ♋.

The winter Quarter usually beghineth at that time the sunne entred into the first minute of Capricorne, which is the 22. day of December, 1620. and doth continue whilst the Sunne passeth thorow these three winterly signes, Capricorne, Aquarie and Pisces.
The nature of this Quarter is cold and moyst, and is of the Flegmaticke complexion, receiving their nature of the thier signes. ♄. ♀. and ♋. Capricorne. it is cold and dry, untemperate, destroying seed, hearbe,
and tree. Aquarie, it is hot and moyst, untemperate, noysome, and hurtfull to all seedes and things vegetable. Pisces, it is cold and moyst, declining from temperature, and tending to destruction, but yet imparting some comfort to diuers things vegetable: Sicknesses of the winter, Grietes in the sides, Catthers, Coughs, loynes pained, loynes aches, and head aches,
and the like. ♄. in ♄. causeth paine in the heart and breast.

A Prognostication.

The Spring, the Sunne in v. s. m.

He causeth grasse to grow for the cattel, and hearbs for the vse of man, that he may bring forth bread one of the earth, P S A L. 104.

The Spring stayeth vntill the appoynted time, that the Sunne hauing finished at full the winter quarter, with the last part of Pisces, and then is his entrance into the first minute of the Equinoctiall signe, Aries, making the artificall day equall with the night. Sol was called in the old time Phœbus: the sunne, Plato affirmeth, to be the soule of the world, and all liuing things to receiue life from him. Ecclesiast. 43 affirmeth the Sunne also a marvellous instrument when it appeareth: the Sunne is the light of the world, and looketh vpon all things, and all the worke thereof is full of the glory of the Lord, Eccl. 42. The Psal. 19. saith, that none is hid from the heate of the Sun, for all the augmentations, increasements, and ripensse of fruits, beasts, & other things, vpon the earth, is of Sol. he is also the giuer of times: & therefore at this time he reuiueth the most delectable season, called the Spring, which beginmeth this yere the 11. of March.

The nature of the three signes, v. s. m. Aries is fiery, hot, and by peculiar property dry: by his heate & quickning drynesse preliuening life fit, for the nourishment of all things animall and herbeine. Taurus is cold and dry, temperate, profitable to the earth, and bud, and flowers, springing therefrom, as also to all liuing creatures. Gemini is hot and moist, affecting the ayre with a temperate disposi, comforting nature, and naturall heate producing the seedes in fruites.

The sicknesses of the Spring: Falling euill, fluxes of bloud, squintances, coughes, poxes, leprothes, scabs, ache in the loynes, reynes, and feet, griefe in the heart and bee wise, for shee prepareth her meat in summer, PROVERBS 6.

Summer beeginneth at the sunnes entring into the first minute of Cancer, at which time he is nearest to our Verticall point, making his greatest declination towards the North, from the Aequinodiali, causing the Summer Solstice, and then is our longest day, which shall be this yeere the 12. of June.

The nature of the three signes, 5. ♋. m2. Cancer is cold and moist, temperate, apt for the nutrition of nature, hauing a comfortable humidity and temperate, whereby all things, both animall and vegetable, doe liue and are maintained. Leo is fiery, hot, and dry, so farre remote from temperatūre, that with it, first beeginneth nature to moue to the diminution of the leaues of the trees, and abatement of frutes, tending rather to destruction. Virgo, the influence thereof vpon the earth, worketh cold and drynesse, hardly temperate, but tending rather to destruction, through the which, albeit all vegittine things receiue some detriment and diminution, hearbes doe wither, and leaues of trees fall, yet the coldnesse thereof not altogether exempt from temperatūre: for although some things perishe, yet other some are ingendred, some hearbes beeginne to bud as Spring againe.

Sickneses of the Summer season, are continuall feuers, burning seiers, vomits, watering eyes, paines of the eares, blisters, and sores of the mouth, with immoderate sweatings. 2. being in 5. signifyeth paine in the reines, belly, and secrets: and 4. in 21. causeth

The Haruest quarter, or fall of the lease, beginneth at the time of the sunnes entering into the first minute of the second Aequinoctiall signe. Libra taketh place this yeere the 13. of September, when the day and night accord: secondly, in equall length.

The nature of the three signes,  $\alpha. m. \gamma.$  Libra, it tempereth into the aire, heate and moisture, somewhat declining from temper, causing it to be thick, & grosse, moist, and vertible to the individvall kindes of nature, as seedes, hearbes, and boughes of trees. Scorpio, it imparteth to the aire coldnesse and moisture, exempted from all temperatune, bringing rather corruption then generatton. Sagittarie, it is hot and dry, boyde of temperatune, causing destruction of seedes and hearbes, and hurt to many living creatures.

Sicknesses which commonly doe happen in Autumn, are opitations of the spleene, dropsies, consumptions, stranguries, ache in the backe bones, fretting of the bowels.  $\gamma$  in  $\gamma$  causeth paine in the hands, thighs, and feete.

The vse for which God made the heauenly lights to be foure,

And God said, Let there bee lights in the firmament of the heauen: 1. To separate the day from the night: 2. And let them be for signes: 3. And for seasons: 4. And for dayes, and yeeres. God then made two great lights, the greater to rule the day, the lesse the night: he made also the starres, GEN 1. 5. He counteth the number of the starres, and calleth them all by their names, PSAL. 147. As Arcturus, Orion and Pleiades, JOB. 9. And according to his will he worketh in the army of heauen, and bee changeth the times and seasons, DAN. 4. 32. For God causeth it to raine vpon one City and not vpon another City, AMOS 4. One piece of ground was rained vpon, and the ground whereupon it rained not. withered: for it is God that giueth vs raine from heauen, and fruitfull seasons, filling our hearts with foode and gladnesse, ACTS. 14. daily alteration of the Aire. which is a thing that most men doe looke for in every Almanack, I minde not to write of, because I haue supplied the booke with other things more necessary: but howsoever, it were in vaine so to doe. If regard bee not had to the nature and temperature of the Clymate: for in this Monarch of Great Brittain, as England, Scotland, & Ireland, there is great alteration in each one of these Clymates: for in England the aire is somewhat thick, and therefore more subject to the gathering of the clouds, raine, and windes, but withall, lesse discompered with heate, or cold, for the same reasons of crassitude. In the further part of Scotland, and in the Orchades, the soyle is (in a manner) alwayes covered with snow in many places, it will scarce beare graine, but of trees almost none. Also in Ireland, by the influence of the aire, all parts of the yeare are tolerably warmer: the quality of the Clymate, and constellation of the Heauens, moyst with the moyst: whereupon it cometh to passe, that both inhabitants, and strangers, are troubled with the fite, and rhumes. So by this you may see, what variety there is in each Clymate, in this Kingdome and Monarch of Great Brittain. And therefore as Moses blessed Ioseph and his land, Deut. 33. so I pray that God will blesse this Kingdome. Blessen of the Lord be this Land.
